14. DESCRIPTION OF AMENDMENT/MODIFICATION (Organized by UCF section headings, including solicitation/contract subject matter where feasible.)

The purpose of this solicitation amendment 0001 is to provide official responses to questions submitted. Additionally, this amendment will extend the proposal due date till 7/17/2026 at 1500 hrs ET.

1. Please clarify whether two or three Customer Satisfaction Surveys are required for responsiveness, given the language in Section L and Section M. The solicitation states that at least two surveys are required, but it also advises offerors to distribute more than three surveys and notes that receipt of fewer than three could lead to disqualification.

Response:
Submission of two Customer Satisfaction Surveys is acceptable to resolve the inconsistency.

	The intent of distributing more than three surveys is to ensure the minimum of two Customer Satisfaction Surveys are received. 2. Please confirm whether university research grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements may be used as relevant past experience if they involved comparable materials testing, fuel systems, compatibility evaluation, or test-rig development. Response: This is acceptable as long as the research grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements are relative in terms of scope and magnitude to the testing under solicitation. 3. Please confirm whether all CLINs must be priced even if subcontracted facilities or external vendors for selected specialized rig tests. Response: Yes, all CLINs must contain pricing information even if subcontracting or external vendors are used. 4. In addition, I would like to respectfully ask whether FAA would consider extending the proposal due date, currently June 18, 2026, by approximately one month. Response: The proposal extension is acceptable. The revised proposal due date of July 17th is incorporated into solicitation amendment 0001. 5. I cannot find any of the referenced PAFI documents listed in the paperwork posted on the SAM website.
