Question & Answers

The following questions were received during the 2025 Main Bus Program Pre-Solicitation conference. Answers from GSA are provided below:

1) Since you are combining the technical data input at the same time as the pricing, how long will it be open for data entry?

> Since the technical data and pricing will be input during the same time period, GSA will potentially allow a longer time period. The GSA contracting team will work with our industry partners to ensure adequate time is allowed to capture both technical and pricing data.

2) Do we need to request an account for the new website if we already have an Auto Choice / Auto Vendor account?

> No, if you have an AutoVendor account, your account will be automatically created in GSAFleet.gov. You will need to login once it goes live in February to update your user profile.
>
> If you do not currently have an AutoVendor account, you will have to create an account through GSAFleet.gov.

3) When do you expect the Federal Technical Standards comment collector to be open? Is this next week?

> Comment Collector will be opened approximately in the March / April 2024 time frame.
