Questions and Answers for ERDC HARDWARE AND PLUMBINGS BPA W912HZ26QA0350001

Please accept the following questions with respect to the solicitation in the subject line.

- Does the government plan on applying the Berry amendment clause at the contract level or the BPA call level? There are items on the list that would fall under the Berry amendment act that are not Berry compliant, and there are no Berry compliant alternatives for. The Berry amendment will be at the BPA call level

- Given the broad nature of product on the list, would the government consider partial price responses, 75% for example. This would allow small businesses that excel in some product classes but not others to respond, this would in turn increase competition and lower the government's overall cost. Please provide complete pricing.