Evaluation Factors for Award

Header Miscellaneous Text (Modified):

BASIS FOR AWARD

The Government intends to award a single contract resulting from this solicitation to the responsible offeror whose quote is the lowest priced and conforms to all solicitation requirements. The Government will evaluate quotes based on the following two factors: (1) Conformance to Solicitation Requirements, and (2) Price.

FACTOR 1: CONFORMANCE TO SOLICITATION REQUIREMENTS

The Government will evaluate the offeror's quote to ensure it meets all terms, conditions, and technical requirements outlined in the solicitation and Performance Work Statement (PWS)/Statement of Work (SOW). Quotes that take exception to solicitation terms or fail to meet the minimum technical requirements may be deemed unacceptable and ineligible for award.

FACTOR 2: PRICE

The Government will evaluate price to determine if it is fair, reasonable, and complete by evaluating reasonableness, balance and TEP.

Total Evaluated Price (TEP) Calculation:

To establish the TEP for the purpose of identifying the lowest priced offer, the Government will calculate the sum of the following:

Firm-Fixed-Price (FFP) CLINs: The sum of all FFP CLINs for all performance periods (calculated by multiplying the offeror's proposed unit price by the stated estimated quantities).

Time-and-Materials (T&M) CLIN: The Government-established Not-To-Exceed (NTE) ceiling amount of $999,999.88. (Offerors shall not alter this amount).

T&M Hourly Rate Evaluation:

While the T&M NTE ceiling establishes the total potential financial liability for evaluating the TEP, the Government will independently evaluate the offeror's proposed Fully Burdened Hourly Rate (FBHR) for the T&M CLIN (Wage Category 23530). The FBHR will be evaluated for:

Reasonableness: Price reasonableness for the proposed FBHR will be determined primarily through adequate price competition by comparing the hourly rates submitted by all competing offerors. If adequate competition does not exist, the Government reserves the right to evaluate the proposed FBHR against historical rates paid for identical or similar services, or through other price analysis techniques in accordance with FAR 15.404-1.
