FEMA Industry Day:
Air Transportation Support Services (ATSS) Contract

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) | Office of Response and Recovery | Response Directorate | Operations Capabilities Branch (OCB)

Invites you to: The ATSS Contract virtual Industry Day webinar for supporting FEMA's disaster air transportation support response requirement.

The event will allow private sector participants to learn about our requirements for providing contractor-managed multi-functional air transportation support services.

If you are interested in learning how to compete for this prospective contracting opportunity, this FEMA Industry Day event is for you.

The virtual Industry Day webinar will cover:

- Overview of the ATSS contract capability requirements and scope of work
- Q&A with OCB and our contracting office personnel
- Key considerations for Doing Business with FEMA
