Origin of iWATCH Army

- iWATCH Army is a nation-wide modern version of neighborhood watch designed to encourage and enable members of the Army community to help protect their community by identifying and reporting suspicious activity or behavior that may be associated with terrorist activities.
- The Passive element of iWATCH Army is individual situational awareness of the surroundings.
- The Active element of iWATCH Army involves individuals taking action to report suspicious activity or behavior to military police or local law enforcement for investigation.

Indicators of Suspicious Activity or Behavior (What to Report)

- Individuals drawing pictures or taking notes in an area not normally of interest to a tourist or showing unusual interest in or photographing security cameras, guard locations, or watching security reaction drills and procedures

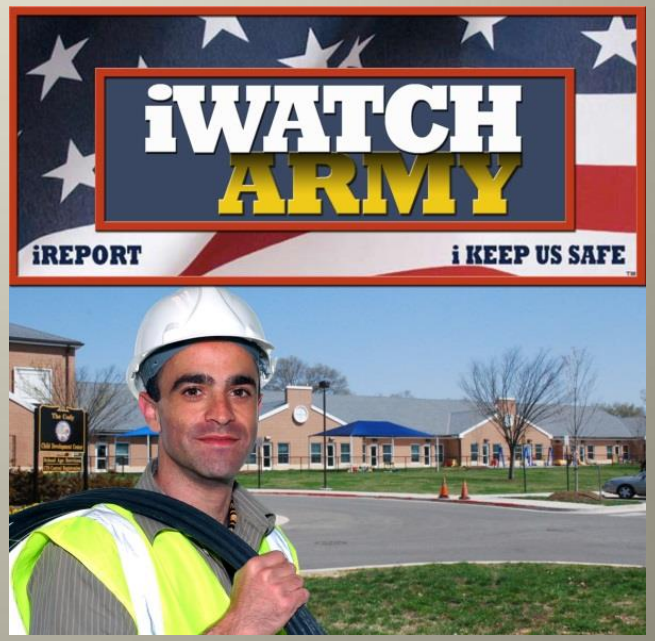
- Multiple sightings of the same suspicious person, vehicle, or activity, separated by time, distance, or direction

- Individuals who stay at bus or train stops for extended periods while buses and trains come and go

- Individuals who order food at a restaurant and leave before the food arrives or who order without eating

Indicators of Suspicious Activity or Behavior (What to Report)

- Joggers who stand and stretch for an inordinate amount of time
- Individuals sitting in a parked car for an extended period of time
- Individuals who don't fit into the surrounding environment because they are wearing improper attire for the location or season
- Individuals who exhibit suspicious behavior, such as staring or quickly looking away from individuals or vehicles as they enter or leave facilities or parking area
- People asking questions about security forces, security measures, or sensitive information



Indicators of Suspicious Activity or Behavior (What to Report)

- Briefcase, backpack, suitcase, or package left unattended
- Vehicle parked in NO PARKING ZONES in front of an important building
- People in restricted areas where they are not supposed to be
- Chemical smells or fumes that worry you
- People purchasing supplies or equipment that can be used to make bombs
- People purchasing weapons or uniforms without proper credentials
