Satellite image of HCNRA compound from google maps.

Entrance into HCNRA compound from Highway 95. Looking south. 1339 Hwy 95 S; Riggins, ID 83549 Area to the left of asphalt is unirrigated adjacent to white fence. The large building is the main office. The asphalt loop in the background is the visitor parking area.

Looking from driveway entrance towards employee parking and the RV area upper flat.

Looking north from the driveway entrance towards the warehouse and apple trees. Upper left corner is the gate to the upper flat.

Apple trees looking towards highway

Warehouse with white property fence in the background.

Lower flat from gate to upper flat. Looking towards entrance into compound.

RV area in upper flat looking from the corner of the pasture fence

Looking south on upper flat towards barn and outbuildings looking from the corner of the pasture fence.

This is an older photo but shows the ditch running south on the eastern edge of the upper flat through the length of the property. Upper flat is to the right, lower flat to the left.

Looking at ditch in late spring, pre cleaning. Ditch is approximately 2’ wide and deep. Grasses and brambles grow towards it during the season and need cleared out, and back from the edge 3’ each spring.

Looking towards warehouse and upper flat from the northeast corner of the compound along the property fence line.

Looking south towards the warehouse and entrance into the compound from the northeast corner of the compound along the highway 95 fence line.

Looking north towards the office and the entrance into the compound from the southeast corner of the compound along the highway 95 fence line.

Looking north towards the office and the visitor parking area. Highway 95 fence line is on the right of the photo